Non-Governmental Organisations to run the training programmes for the professionals in the field of disability rehabilitation. Madhya Pradesh Bhoj Open University (MPBOU) and Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU) also undertake programmes on distance mode to prepare trained people to work in the field of mental retardation.

However, the above efforts need to be intensified, as existing trained manpower is not adequate to meet the demand in the entire country. Existing Teacher Training institutions for General Education have taken up training module for Special Teacher Training who can provide support to general teacher under inclusive education. The existing number of seats in the National Institutes are/will also been enhanced for improving the availability of trained professionals in the field.
